BIRDIE WEST ATTEMPTS TO END HER WRETCHED LIFE

Took Poison at a Home In This City and Is Not Likely to Recover.

SHE HAS USED DRUGS VERY RECKLESSLY

Mrs. Birdie West, who has made herself notorious in this section of Ohio and a part of West Virginia, is lying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson, 267 Church alley, her life slowly ebbing away from the effects of a powerful drug administered by her own hand. From all the facts at hand it is gathered that the woman took the poison some time yesterday afternoon, and has been in terrible agony ever since. On account of the fact that she has been a heavy drinker for several years, and recently has been resorting to all sorts of drugs, it is thought she has no chance whatever for recovery.

Mrs. West has been making her home with the Richardsons for several weeks. Mrs. Richardson being a sister, and yesterday came to the house about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, saying she had been calling on some acquaintances at the Anderson boarding house on Market street. She complained of a terrible headache, and stated she could scarcely see at all. Mrs. Richardson intimated that she had been drinking, but she emphatically denied the charge, saying she had drunk nothing since Saturday night, when two drinks of whisky and three beers was all that she had partaken of, only those because she needed them in her business. After remaining at the Richardson house for a short time the West woman started to the home of Mrs. George McCannell, another sister, residing in Drury lane. The Richardsons gave the matter little thought after that, and it was only recalled when Birdie returned at about 6 o'clock.

Mrs. West was in a pitiable condition when she entered the house and

ADJUDGED INSANE

Madison Fugate, an Aged Citizen Near Lisbon, Will Be Taken to Massillon.

Lisbon, January 18.—(Special)—Probate Judge Martin drove to the home of Madison Fugate, two miles west of Guilford, Saturday afternoon and adjudged Mr. Fugate insane. A long illness which the patient had just passed through, including two slight strokes of paralysis, left his mind unbalanced. He is about 70 years old, was never married and has been making his home with a sister who has had great difficulty in taking care of him recently. The old gentleman becoming so violent at times that she was compelled to summon the neighbors. He will be removed to the asylum as soon as a permit can be secured.

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, January 18.—(Special)—Thomas A. Mick and Mary Patterson, both of Wellsville.

Mrs. Mary Stevenson, Found in a Pitiable Condition, Now Being Cared For.

Mrs. Mary Stevenson, of Rural lane, destitute and ill, with only two children, a boy of 10 and a girl of 9, was found by the township trustees on Saturday in a pitiable condition. She had supported herself and children by working in a pottery until taken down by the grip and had been in bed for a week. A physician was called and she was taken to the home of Mrs. Langenbacher, Jackson street and Rural lane, who will care for her and the children.

It is said a woman whom Mrs. Stevenson had befriended and kept from being cared for by the township trustees refused to aid her when she needed help most.

SHORT OF FOOD AND FUEL

More Cases of Distress Reported to the Township Trustees.

The township trustees had a number of cases before them on last Saturday. Mrs. Will Jones reported that her husband has been sick for weeks and that they were out of both food and fuel. The trustees complied with the request.

James Hood reported his family to be in a destitute condition and asked for food. His little boy has been sick for five weeks with fever and the entire family is not well. They were given an order for provisions. Tension Pugh was also given an order for provisions.

Laborers Laid Off.

Italian laborers who have been employed by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh road on improvements in course of completion at Freeman's Station, have been laid off. They were paid off in full by Freight Agent E. L. Broderick this morning. This is the third "pay day" for these workmen for January. They will not be put to work again until the weather moderates.

THESE HIGHWAYMEN TRAVELED IN A BUGGY

Fired Repeatedly at Two Pedestrians and Searched Them, But Found No Money.

A bold and highly exciting "stick-up" job was committed Saturday night on Pennsylvania avenue within stone's throw of the residence of James Hargraves. The victims of the highwaymen are glass workers, who were on their way afoot to Pittsburgh from Wheeling to get employment. The name of one of the men only could be learned. He stated that he was Samuel Dickson and that his native home is about Cincinnati. His story is corroborated by Mr. Hargraves, who, though he did not see the job, heard the revolvers and the shouting for help.

The men were walking towards the East End, where they intended to stop for the night and having no money were not worrying in the least over the possibility of getting held up. They were sauntering rather leisurely when they heard the approach of a buggy from the rear and both naturally stepped to one side to allow it room to pass. Much to their surprise it stopped dead still when directly opposite them and one of the occupants flashed a revolver, pointed it in their direction

SAYS HIS WIFE LEFT WHEN HE WAS ILL

Miner Who Was Badly Injured Lately Sues His Bride of Last July for Divorce.

Lisbon, January 18.—(Special)—Fremont Golden, of Logtown, the miner who was badly injured some time ago by a fall of rock in the McKinley mine, has entered suit for divorce from Mary L. Golden. The petition says they were married July 29, 1903.

He charges gross neglect and desertion, alleging that about November 25, when he was nearly dead from injuries received in the mine, the wife refused to remain at home and nurse him and has ever since refused to live with him. Golden further alleges that his wife procured a criminal operation about November 18.

GRAND JURY IS AT WORK

A Variety of Criminal Charges Which Are to Be Investigated.

THE OPENING OF COURT

Lisbon, January 18.—(Special)—The January term of common pleas court opened at 10 a.m. today, with Judge W. W. Hole on the bench. After the grand jury had been called, several absences made it necessary to fill the panel with talesmen. Judge Hole appointed J. H. Harris, of East Liverpool, foreman of the jury, after which he delivered his charge.

Among the cases which the jury will be called upon to consider, and concerning which the judge gave special instruction, were assault and battery, assault with criminal intent, assault with intent to wound, larceny, burglary, non-support of minor children, cutting with intent to wound, pocket picking, running a bucket shop, etc.

At the conclusion of the judge's charge the jury retired to the grand jury room in charge of Prosecutor M. J. McGarry.

Lyman P. Van Fossan, now serving his fifth year as court bailiff, has been re-appointed for the present term. Chris. A. Bick, who has served as special court officer for every grand jury for several years, is on duty at this session.

Judge Hole is hearing motions and demurrers in a number of cases this afternoon.

LAWBREAKERS VERY NUMEROUS

A Dozen of Them Landed in Jail Saturday Night and Sunday.

PAUL KRUGER WARLIKE

Assaulted Chief Wyman and Got a Salty Dose—Alleged Deserter Run in—Other Offenders Arrested on Various Charges.

Nearly a dozen law breakers were landed at the city jail during Saturday night and Sunday. As a result police court this morning was unusually animated and the mayor had a steady grind for an hour. He remarked that the session was equal to one he witnessed at Columbus on the morning following the inauguration. The only feature disliked by the chief executive was that each prisoner professed bankruptcy.

Paul Kruger, married, of Chester, employed at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery, received the most salty dose of all. He was charged with interfering with an officer and will remain behind the bars until a fine of $25 and costs is paid. Paul disclaims any relationship to the South African warrior, much to the liking of the latter if he only knew. Oom Paul, however, might have been better thought of today had he showed the same amount of fighting blood as the Chesterite. Paul had the nerve to step up to Chief Wyman, plant a blow between his eyes, an act of bravery that Oom Paul could not have been guilty of, and one that common Paul is sorry of. The scene immediately following was exciting and narrowly escaped terminating in Chief Wyman pumping lead with vengeance.

The chief had been summoned to the home of Harvey Jackson, Walnut street, to arrest William W. Jackson, who was raising a disturbance. The officer had no trouble in making the arrest and was en route to the jail when Kruger interfered. It was near the corner of Walnut and East Fifth streets. The chief had Jackson in his power, holding him with one hand and when he saw Kruger on the corner did not even suspect trouble.

Kruger boldly stepped in front of the chief, told him to release Jackson, and then, while the chief was absolutely in ignorance of such tactics, struck the chief directly in the left eye. The chief was paralyzed for a moment and did not retaliate, but he soon regained his equilibrium and pulling his revolver commanded the coward to march in front of him. Kruger knew the chief meant business and started. Fearing that he might attempt to escape, the chief ordered William Petticord to take Kruger in charge and both prisoners were lodged in jail without further trouble.

Soon after Jackson was placed in jail Chief Wyman remembered that he had received a letter from the army officials of the Jefferson barracks at St. Louis, Mo., asking him to arrest a man by the name of William W. Jackson, and he immediately concluded that he had killed two birds with one stone. The letter described the man under arrest in every way excepting his age. He (Jackson) claims that he is 30 years of age and the description card says he is 25. However, the chief is confident he has the right man and he will be taken to the nearest recruiting station to this city. The chief will receive a reward of $30 and expenses for returning the alleged deserter. The mayor fined him $5 for his disorderly conduct, which he said he would pay.

George, James and John Siebert, arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of being drunk and on suspicion of stealing a goose from the coal shed of Samuel Kaufman, each pleaded guilty to intoxication and a fine of $5 was imposed on each. They will be heard later on the charge of stealing. John and James declared that they were above stealing. John wept bitterly and swore he would never take another drink as long as he lives if the mayor would only let him go. The tears had little effect and John will stay in jail for some time.

Harry Ball and Thomas Amos, well known characters, met a man from Wellsville yesterday who had a whole quart of whisky with him. He gave them a nip or two and pretty soon all were drunk. The mayor could hardly determine how Amos and Ball could get drunk on a quart of the vile stuff.

and tried to pump them to ascertain where else they got drink, but was unsuccessful. Both will have to pay $5.

Tottering with three score years and ten over his hoary head, Charles McGill presented a pitiful picture. He has been sick for several years with consumption and Saturday was the first day he had been out this winter. He went to a saloon for a drink thinking it might do him some good, and not being used to the spirits was soon top-heavy. The mayor could not fine a man with one foot in the grave and allowed him to go, remitting both the fine and cost.

Moody Coburn was just drunk. He never does anything more serious. Officer McCullough arrested him. His wife paid his fine of $2 and costs.

Charles Bean was in Moody's boat and received the same dose.

THE CROWDS TOO GREAT AT THE M. E. REVIVAL

Mayor Weaver Forbade the Admission of More People Than Could Be Seated.

OPERA HOUSE MUST NOT SELL STANDING ROOM

Having received orders from the head of his department to see that the state law relating to opera houses and all other places of public gatherings is complied with by those responsible for the same, Officer Clifford Dawson, upon discovering that the management of the local play house was permitting tickets to be sold for the performance Saturday night after the seating room was all taken, immediately demanded those in charge of the opera house to desist in the selling of tickets. He then went to the city hall and swore out a warrant against James A. Norris, manager of the theater. Norris appeared before the mayor this morning and promised to respect the law to the letter in the future.

Mayor Weaver was not disposed to make an example out of Mr. Norris and when the latter gave him his word that he would comply with the law he allowed him to go without a fine. Mr. Norris said that he did not know it was against the law to sell standing room tickets, but agreed with the mayor in the latter's construction of the law and readily promised to live by it.

Not alone will the opera house managers be compelled to adhere to the provisions of the law, but every hall, church or other place of public assemblies must be run in accordance with it. Mayor Weaver believes that it is dangerous to over-crowd a hall or other building and will insist that any person responsible for the violations be arrested and in the future severe sentences will be imposed.

So earnest is the mayor in his con-

Partition Proceedings.

Lisbon, January 18.—(Special)—R. Wilson has begun partition proceedings against Ellen Ratcliffe, Mary Belle Pettit, Mack Martin, and 25 other defendants, asking that as an heir of Martin Wilson, deceased, his one-twelfth interest in lot 10 in George Wells' first addition to Wellsville be set off to him.

Male Quartet Will Sing.
Lisbon, January 18.—(Special)—A male quartet, consisting of George Huston, H. V. George, W. A. Thompson and Will Kermohan, all of Lisbon, will sing for the farmers' institute, to be held here Friday and Saturday, January 29 and 30.

THE LEGISLATIVE GRIND TO START IN EARNEST

Ohio Lawmakers Will Get Down to Business. Primary Election Bill Important.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, January 18.—The real work of the general assembly begins tomorrow. The first week of the session was devoted to the preliminary organization of house and senate; the second week was largely given over to the inaugural ceremonies, but the actual grind will begin next Tuesday morning. The legislature will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon, but will probably adjourn almost immediately until morning.

An important measure to be introduced soon will be Representative Bronson's primary election bill. It will require city and county nominations to be made by primaries, but if the party committees choose to have primaries, they must be held under the auspices of the board of elections. Representative Whitney has a bill permitting the consolidation of medical colleges and hospitals and a consolidation of classical schools, medical colleges and hospitals. The present laws make no clear provisions for such consolidations and Mr. Whitney's bill makes specific provisions for this.

A Franklin county legislator will introduce the governor's mansion bill. It will provide for an expenditure of $75,000. This should be sufficient to build a comfortable home for Ohio's chief executive.

Another important measure will be one providing for the codification of the Ohio laws. Judge York, of Ottawa, has introduced a bill of this kind, providing for a bi-partisan commission to do the codifying, but it is likely the Republicans will introduce a measure of their own, providing for a commission of three or five Republicans.

The session began two weeks ago today and 20 bills have been introduced. Two years ago over 200 were introduced the first two weeks of the session. Most of these were of the special class, and under the recent rulings of the supreme court no more such bills will be introduced. This will simplify the work of the solons and shorten the session.

Took Poison at a Home In This City and Is Not Likely to Recover.

Mrs. West has been making her home with the Richardsons for several weeks. Mrs. Richardson being a sister, and yesterday came to the house about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, saying she had been calling on some acquaintances at the Anderson boarding house on Market street. She complained of a terrible headache, and stated she could scarcely see at all. The Richardsons gave the matter little thought after that, and it was only recalled when Birdie returned at about 6 o'clock.

Mrs. West was in a pitiable condition when she entered the house and seemed to be suffering terribly. Both Mr. and Mrs. Richardson was at home at the time, and attempted to question the woman concerning her condition, but were able to obtain only a few incoherent sentences on account of her stupid state. She went to sleep in a chair shortly afterward, and the watchers noticed that she grew purple about the mouth, and was perfectly limp. Mrs. Richardson and her husband were not alarmed, as they had often seen her in similar state, and later assisted Mrs. West to bed. During this operation she remained in a semi-conscious condition and lapsed into a heavy slumber the minute she was placed in bed. At about midnight Mrs. West awoke and asked for morphine. Mrs. Richardson refused to comply and she became very angry. Arising she went to an upstairs window where the family always keep a bottle of spring water.

It is said she drank at least half a gallon of water and returned to bed. Almost immediately afterward she was seized with terrible spasms of pain, and raved from that time until an early hour this morning, when she again went to sleep. She remained in a deep stupor until noon today, when the relatives became alarmed and sent for a physician.

Dr. Laughlin arrived at the Richardson home shortly after noon, and after making a careful examination stated the woman would die. It is his opinion that she is suffering from the effects of some powerful drug evidently swallowed for the purpose of producing unconsciousness. All afternoon the stricken woman suffered terrible agony, and it was not thought she could survive many hours.

VICE AND SIN HERE AT HOME

A Much Heathenism in East Liverpool as in the Far East.

BURNING WORDS SPOKEN

By Rev. Edwin Weary in a Discourse on Missions—Dr. Pratt on Christ's Temptations—Other Sermons By Local Pastors.

Missionary Sunday was observed at St. Stephen's Episcopal church yesterday and the rector preached two excellent sermons. Last evening he preached on home missions and told of the great endeavor that is being made by all the churches in the suppression of crime and vice.

"What are we doing as a church toward the elevation of the suffering and the eradication of the sins of all men? In foreign fields the missionary is doing a great work. At home the church is accomplishing a marvelous work. There is no difference between foreign missions and domestic missions in the end that is in view. There is as much vice and heathenism in East Liverpool as there is in the far east and in Africa and other parts of the world. I desire tonight to talk on four subjects that are being considered at all times by the church and her missionaries. Impurity, which is the greatest gambling and drunkenness and swearing. These are the greatest sins that the church has to contend with."

The rector made a strong defense of the movement in the church which has resulted in a club for men, known as St. Stephen's Social Club. He said that he had launched out in a work which he hopes will be beneficial to the city, but that already adverse comment and criticism had been made by certain narrow-minded Christians. He said that the club had for its object the uplifting of manhood and that this should bring commendation rather than condemnation. He showed how the club would be instrumental in enlisted the interests of men in amusement which they can find amid good environments.

"The Dialogue of the Desert" was the subject of Rev. Dr. M. B. Pratt's sermon at the First M. E. church last evening. The story contained in the fourth chapter of Luke of the fasting and temptation of Christ was dwelt upon with great eloquence. Dr. Pratt said in part:

"When Jesus learned what His mission in the world was and what a stupendous task confronted Him, He hid Himself away in the desert, yearning for solitude. While engaged in His meditations in the desert the devil sought Him out, and three times tempted Him. Though rebuked by Christ with decision, the tempter persisted in his undertaking. The devil took Him up into a high mountain, showed Him all the kingdoms of the world, and said 'All this power will I give Thee, and the glory of them, if you therefore wilt worship me, all shall be Thine.' But Jesus answered and said, 'Get thee behind Me, Satan. That decision of Christ's was of inestimable importance to us. Had He yielded to the temptation, all the ages might have been damned. Civilization, it might be said, dates itself from that time. I would like to live as Christ lived; to resist temptation as He resisted it.'

"The temptations of the young man of today are similar to those that faced Christ, and the temptation the church must combat is that which leads its members into hues of activity for gain and pleasure. Turn your back on the kingdoms of the world, do not be tempted, but make the supreme gift of God."

At the First M. P. church last evening Rev. David Jones took as his theme "An Exceeding Great Army," dealing with the vision of Ezekiel, in which the prophet saw resurrected the skeletons of the dead. Dr. Jones said:

"We are dead. We must be resurrected. To be dead in trespasses and sin is the worst condition we can be this side of perdition. That is the condition a man is in when the spirit of God has not entered him.

"It is difficult to make men believe that they are in this condition. Spiritual things are only discerned by the man who has a spiritual nature. There must be some affinity here. To see the great spiritual realities of the universe we must have our eyes opened. Men need life more than education. It is not a light matter that your boy is educated—it is very important. A man may climb to the greatest of heights, his name may be on every tongue, and yet fall short of the glory of God."

"Man was not created and redeemed to be a mere calculating machine. He was made for a high and glorious purpose. Everything is possible for man but one thing—he cannot create. He can resurrect, but he cannot put the breath of life into a living thing."

Preaching on "The Treasures of Character," Rev. J. W. Gorrell, at the First Christian church last evening, said where the treasure is the heart is and urged his hearers to lay up treasures that are enduring; to avoid everything that is degrading and follow the best example. The ideal treasure is the attainment of perfect character, and the example of Christ is perfect one. If we follow Him we cannot go wrong.

"The Gospel of the Right Hand" was the subject of an inspiring address by E. D. Moore at the Y. M. C. A. He spoke of the young men of the city who have no religious affiliations and of the importance of reaching out and benefiting them. The music was pleasing. J. A. Randall, of Leavenworth, Kan., presided at the piano and also gave a beautiful solo.

PREHISTORIC POTTERY.

Mr. George Wharton James, of this city, the leading authority on the Indians of the Painted Desert region, possesses a fine collection of prehistoric and modern pottery of the Indians of the deserts of New Mexico, Utah, Arizona and Nevada, which are of great interest to artists, says the San Francisco correspondent of China, Glass and Lamps. The pottery comprises bowls, jugs, urns and ewers, or water buckets. These utensils are tinted and ornamented in brightly colored line forms, that are nearly always symbolic. The principal subjects are conventional devices, representing clouds, stars, rainbows and lightning. These forms are produced in endless combination and often present brilliant effects in scarlet, black, green, yellow, blue on light tints, and wide ranges of color very tastefully blended on white grounds. The centers of the bowls are often occupied with tessellated or lozenge patterns of multi-colored sides, or divided into panels of contrasting colors in which different patterns appear. A young Wallapai potter who had just completed a wide bowl simply ornamented with three irregular scrolls half way toward the center, and several inverted pyramids around the ruin, was asked to explain the significance of the design. He stated that the scrolls represent the chief valleys near his home, and the inverted pyramids signify the cyclone. The design taken together is a prayer to Those Above to keep the cyclones in the center of the plateaus, so that they will not damage the corn and melon crops growing in the canyon depths. Most of the designs are artistic and beautiful and could with advantage be copied by American ceramic artists; but if the stories and legends they relate could be properly interpreted interest in them would be increased a hundred fold.

FAVOR A CHANGE.
Eastern operatives, particularly those in the sanitary trade, are advocating with considerable warmth a change in the time of holding the national conventions. Discussion of the matter has become quite general in the past two weeks and as a great sentiment has been created the question may be submitted to the trade. The chief objection to the present time for holding the conventions, early in May, is that the delegates are compelled to lose from ten days to two weeks' work, when, if the conventions were held in July, during the loaf, no time at all would be lost. Many of the operatives selected as delegates last year could not leave their work because they could not find a substitute and alternate delegates who were more fortunate went to the convention. The movement to change the date of conventions is finding much favor in the west and many think that a majority of the operatives will be won over to the new plan.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the J. B. Owens Pottery company, Zanesville, the following directors were chosen: J. B. Owens, F. G. Dodd, A. W. Burg, G. L. Brush, J. N. Owens. J. B. Owens was chosen president, treasurer and general manager; F. G. Dodd, vice president; A. W. Burg, secretary; and G. L. Brush, superintendent of sales and assistant general manager. The company say that they had an exceedingly good year, but hope to have a still larger one during 1904.

EAST END

MANY FAMILIES SUFFER FROM EXTREME COLD

The Missionary Ladies in the East End Have Found Several Cases of Distress.

The continued cold weather is causing a great deal of sickness and suffering in certain districts of the East End and the ladies of the missionary societies are working hard to care for those in need and distress. There are a number of cases where help has been rendered by the ladies and they are yet caring for several families. In nearly every instance distress came when the bread winner of the family succumbed to illness.

Alex Brownlee, whose case has been previously mentioned, is now improving, though not yet able to leave the house. The missionary ladies and others have rendered whatever help they could and are still caring for the family. Before taking sick Brownlee was employed as a watchman at the Island Run Coal company's mines on Little Beaver and yesterday L. W. Healy called at the house and gave him the assurance that he could have the job again when he recovered.

Mr. Woode at Home.

M. J. Woode, the contractor, has returned from Baden, Pa., where he has just concluded the erection of a fine 12 room dwelling house. He is interested in several other contracts, but work on them has been stopped owing to the continued cold weather. Mr. Woode states that there has been a great deal of building at Ambridge, the new town, and the indications are that there will be a big building boom there in the spring.

Photographic Views.

D. E. White has received a number of photographic views of the shafts and buildings of the Michigan mines of the Tri-Billion company, in which he and other East End parties are interested. He made a favorable report to the stockholders of his recent inspection of the mines.

Will Meet Tonight.

There will be an important meeting of Pan American Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, at P. H. C. hall tonight. Among other matters will be the initiation of a class of candidates and the installation of officers elected several weeks ago.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Herbert Bright, of Railroad street, is reported among the sick.

Taylor Larkins is confined to his home on First avenue with a severe attack of the grip.

Mrs. Campbell Brown is confined to her home on Railroad street with a threatened attack of fever.

The attendance at divine services yesterday was good in spite of adverse weather conditions. The sermons were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. John Burns, of Railroad street, has been quite ill for the past few days and for a time it was thought her malady was appendicitis. She is much better today.

John Patterson, employed at the Smith & Phillips China company's plant, has returned from a visit of several weeks at Negley. He will start to work tomorrow.

Miss Olive Hamilton entertained the Friday night club at her home on Ohio avenue. The evening was pleasantly spent with various games and tempting refreshments were served.

WHEELING SCORCHED

Whole Business Block Falls Prey to Stubborn Conflagration.

TWO MEN HAD NARROW ESCAPES

Fine Newspaper Plant Destroyed—Estimated Loss from Fire is $250,000—Child Perishes in Burning of Home at Foxburg, Pa.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 18.—In one of the most disastrous fires ever experienced in this city an entire block in the heart of the city's business district, was last night within the space of one hour reduced to smoking ruins, entailing a loss of $250,000.

The fire originated in the boiler rooms of the Wheeling Daily News and spread rapidly, entirely consuming the newspaper plant, which was one of the finest in the state; a wholesale liquor house owned by Shaefer & Driehorst, and the extensive plant of the Locke Bros. Shoe company. Several other buildings caught fire, but were saved by prompt and heroic work of the fire department and volunteer citizens. The entire department and reserves from neighboring cities were called out, but the flames resisted all efforts and in a short time the blazing buildings were a total loss.

The fire spread with such rapidity that the employees of the News had no chance to escape by the stairways and the night editor, Allan B. Smith and his assistant, R. M. Archer, were compelled to jump from the second story window into the street, escaping with slight injuries. A few moments after the six-story walls collapsed.

A hot box on the engine was the cause of the fire. The proprietors of the News carried but little insurance, but the rest of the sufferers are well covered.

Oil City, Pa., Jan. 18.—Fire that caused a money loss of about $6,000 and in which Margaret Toy, the 6-year-old daughter of Peter Toy, lost her life, occurred at Foxburg shortly before noon. The body of the child was found with both its arms and legs burned off. Garnet Toy, an older sister of the deceased, had her hands and arms badly cut by glass in trying to break through a window to go to the relief of her sister.

The Toy home and contents were destroyed and several adjoining buildings, including the home of the Hon. A. W. Smiley, were badly damaged by fire and water. A lace curtain blowing against a gas jet in the room where the child was sleeping caused the fire.

Scranton, Jan. 18.—The Olyphant breaker and washery of the Delaware and Hudson company at Olyphant were destroyed by fire which broke out in the engine room. A hot journal is supposed to have started the blaze.

The breaker is one of the largest and most modern in the state, having a capacity of 2,200 tons a day. It prepared coal from six openings. Upwards of 2,500 hands will be thrown idle for two months or more. The company's estimate of the loss is $110,000.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Fire in the Chicago Consolidated Milling and Malting company plant caused a loss of $75,000.

Havana, Jan. 18.—United States Consul Steinhart, having declined to interfere in the grievances which the American residents of the Isle of Pines have against Mayor Sanchez of Nueva Cerona in connection with the arrest and imprisonment of Morgan Pearcey, the son of a prominent American, a petition to President Roosevelt is being prepared for the signatures of the Americans.

This petition will allege that the conduct of Mayor Sanchez is oppressive and intolerable and will pray for the appointment of an agent other than United States Minister Squier to investigate the case with a view to requesting the government of Cuba to remove the mayor.

Substantial Progress Being Made in Public School Work.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The annual report of the commissioner of education for Porto Rico announces a substantial progress in the school affairs of the island. The year closed with 1,005 schools open. The total school enrollment was 70,216, which is 19 per cent of the estimated total school population of the island and 7 per cent of the estimated total population of the island for 1903.

For the support of all schools the department of education had available from insular appropriation $547,767, of which $545,106 actually was spent. Other expenditures bring the grand total actually spent for education during the fiscal year up to $817,815.

CONVENTION CALLED.

Chairman Hanna Issues Formal Notice to Republican Party.

Washington, Jan. 18.—National Chairman Hanna has issued the formal call for the Republican national convention to assemble at noon on Tuesday, June 26, at Chicago.

Questioned concerning the nomination, Senator Hanna said:

"That is a closed incident. I shall say nothing more about that. I can see that some Democrats and some so-called independents conceive that all this talk is a good way to kick up a row within the Republican party. But I will not be forced into contributing to it. I am a Republican first, last and all the time, and I am for the success of the party."

POLICEMEN ORGANIZE.

Chicago Bluecoats Form Mutual Protective Organization.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Members of Chicago's police force, numbering 300 and including patrolmen and officers of rank in the force, have launched an organization to be known as the Policemen's Progressive association.

Its principal object, it is stated, will be the protection of its members against charges made by criminals and thieves, evidence having been given by the latter to a local "graft" investigation committee which has resulted in discharge of policemen. The policemen assert the dismissal of police on the testimony of criminals was unjust.

PAY FOR MUTINEERS.

Sultan Issues Orders to Grant Demands of Soldiers.

Constantinople, Jan. 18.—Orders have been sent by the government to the governor of Beirut, Syria, to pay the arrears due the Turkish troops there, the non-payment of which has kept the troops in a mutinous condition for several days past.

Mutinous Turks have been terrorizing Beirut for several days. The mutineers, who numbered 1,300 men, were landed Jan. 11 from Yemen, Arabia, and immediately besieged the governor's palace demanding payment of about $80,000 in arrears of pay and threatening otherwise to sack the town.

The United States government has acquired by purchase the battlefields of Antietam, Gettysburg, Shiloh, Chick-amauga, the crest of Lookout Mountain and of Mission Ridge. These have been, or are in process of being, converted into parks. The amount expended so far is nearly $3,000,000, and it will take a half million more to complete their improvement. It requires over $65,000 per year to take proper care of them. Secretary Root believes the government has gone as far in this direction as it should; that no more military sites should be acquired. To add to the annual expense bill. There are other ways of showing our patriotism and our appreciation of what was done by our civil war heroes that are quite as beneficial to them and their posterity and quite as creditable to the nation.

The law which forbids the overcrowding of theaters, churches and other public places has common sense to recommend it, and Mayor Weaver's determination that it shall be observed in East Liverpool will be cordially approved by the public. In case of a panic resulting from fire it is a difficult matter at best to get the occupants of a public building out with safety, and the aisles and approaches to the exits are needlessly blockaded.

Hanna's denial, No. 2001, that he is a candidate for the presidency has been issued, and he says it is final.
Nevertheless Democratic mischief-makers will probably continue insisting until the Chicago convention is held and Roosevelt nominated, that the senator does not know what he is talking about.

The senate, in confirming the appointment of Mr. Buchanan as minister to the new republic of Panama, indirectly recognized the independent status of the latter; and the vote foreshadows distinctly the ratification of the new canal treaty. The Democratic statesmen have been hearing from their constituents and their opposition to the treaty is fast disappearing.

If the Democracy would devote itself a little more assiduously to the task of selecting its own presidential candidate, leaving the Republicans to attend to their own affairs, it would make itself less ridiculous, as well as less wearisome.

Butler, Pa., has reason to believe that the worst of its typhoid fever epidemic has passed. The total number of deaths so far reported is 102—certainly an awful punishment for carelessness on the part of the municipal authorities.

William J. Bryan hints that he has a new idea, but there is no indication that the country is going to stop business and listen in breathless suspense until he tells what it is.

The only really strenuous opposition to President Roosevelt for a second term is found in Democratic newspapers, and that is not formidable.

The fourth week of snow-covered earth is with us. Those who delight in an old-fashioned winter ought to be supremely happy.

Cotton exports averaged over a million dollars a day during 1903. There is no room for doubt that prosperity has returned to the south.

If a prize were to be offered for the worst-kept sidewalks, East Liverpool would win it hands down.

The indictment against Reed Smoot is also against the whole Mormon church.

OBITUARY

Mrs. H. H. Dixson.

Mrs. Susan Dixson, aged 61 years, the wife of Harry H. Dixson, of Walnut street, died at the home last night at 7:30 o'clock after an illness extending over a period of 15 years. Mrs. Dixson during the past year has been in a very serious condition and her death was not unexpected. She was surrounded with loving relatives and friends who did everything possible to alleviate her sufferings. Though her suffering was intense she bore it all with true Christian fortitude and died happy in the thought that she would soon meet the Master she had served so long and faithfully.

Mrs. Dixson came to this city about 26 years ago with her husband and has since resided here. Mr. Dixson, until he retired on account of ill health was a stationary engineer and was employed in local manufactories. Mrs. Dixson was born in Stark county a short distance north of Canton and lived there a number of years, uniting with the Christian church when but 15. She took an active part in church work until the time her illness confined her to her home. But one child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dixson, a daughter, who died 12 years ago at the age of 18. Besides the husband one sister, Mrs. Louisa Moore, of Canton, survives.

The funeral services will be held at the First Christian church, of which she was a member, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Gorrell,

FOUR HUNDRED PUPILS IN BURNING BUILDING

The Allen School at Dayton Destroyed
By Fire and All But Two Escaped.

Dayton, January 18.—(Special)—
The Allen school building burned this morning while school was in session and will probably cost two lives. There were 400 children in the building when the blaze, caused from defective heating apparatus, started.

Edna Baum, a crippled girl, was probably fatally trampled in the rush of the pupils to escape from the burning structure.

THREE AMENDMENTS TO CANAL TREATY

Reported to the Senate By Foreign Relations Committee, Democrats Not Voting.

Washington, January 18.—(Special)—
The senate foreign relations committee today voted to report the canal treaty with three amendments. The Democratic members of the committee did not vote.

The amendments give the United States control of the harbors and power to make sanitary regulations within the harbor limits.

ILL OF MEASLES

Woman From Wellsville Suddenly Taken Sick in An East Liverpool Shop.

A woman from Wellsville went in to the repair shop of Will Stevens, Washington street, this afternoon, and asked to be allowed to sit down and rest. Mr. Stevens granted her the privilege and in a short time she became violently ill. A physician was called, who pronounced her ill of measles.

She will be taken care of by the proper authorities.

Two Injured Italians—Dominick Castnero, of Wellsville, was taken to the Taylor hospital this morning where he is now being treated. He fell on the ice Saturday and sustained a broken leg. Antonio Pertero, of Yellow Creek, was also admitted to the hospital. His left hand was badly cut by an explosion at a stone quarry.

Gladys Mosser.

Gladys, the eight-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Mosser, died at the home of her parents on St.
George street, East End, at 12 o'clock
Saturday night, after a short illness.
Funeral services were conducted from the home this afternoon, Rev. Dr. M.
B. Pratt officiating. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

James H. Baum.

James Harold, aged 5, son of Mr.
and Mrs. James Baum, of Main street, Wellsville, died Saturday. He had been ill with measles, but death is attributed to other causes. Burial was made in St. Elizabeth cemetery, Rev.
Father Crotty officiating.

James Carr, the oldest living pottery manufacturer in the United States, now in his eighty-fifth year, is reportedly ill at his home in New York city.
He is the father of James Carr, of East
Sixth street, in this city.

Miss Harriet Woodburn, who has been confined to the Taylor hospital for some time, is reported in a dangerous condition. It will be remembered the lady fell through a coal hole which had been left open at the Morris property on Walnut street, several years ago, and has never recovered from the effects of her injuries.

The Dolphin will meet the Prinzess Irone in New York lower bay and escort the vessel to her dock. The coffin containing the remains will be transferred to the Dolphin, which will take it to Washington, where reinter-ment with appropriate ceremonies will be made.

The United States government has acquired by purchase the battlefields of Antietam, Gettysburg, Shiloh, Chickamauga, the crest of Lookout Mountain and of Mission Ridge. These have been, or are in process of being, converted into parks. The amount expended so far is nearly $3,000,000, and it will take a half million more to complete their improvement. It requires over $65,000 per year to take proper care of them. Secretary Root believes the government has gone as far in this direction as it should; that no more military sites should be acquired, to add to the annual expense bill. There are other ways of showing our patriotism and our appreciation of what was done by our civil war heroes that are quite as beneficial to them and their posterity and quite as creditable to the nation.

The senate, in confirming the appointment of Mr. Buchanan as minister to the new republic of Panama, indirectly recognized the independent status of the latter; and the vote fore-shadows distinctly the ratification of the new canal treaty. The Democratic statesmen have been hearing from their constituents and their opposition to the treaty is fast disappearing.

If the Democracy would devote itself a little more assiduously to the task of selecting its own presidential candidate, leaving the Republicans to attend to their own affairs, it would make itself less ridiculous, as well as less wearisome.

Butler, Pa., has reason to believe that the worst of its typhoid fever epidemic has passed. The total number of deaths so far reported is 102—certainly an awful punishment for carelessness on the part of the municipal authorities.

William J. Bryan hints that he has a new idea, but there is no indication that the country is going to stop business and listen in breathless suspense until he tells what it is.

The only really strenuous opposition to President Roosevelt for a second term is found in Democratic newspapers, and that is not formidable.

The fourth week of snow-covered earth is with us. Those who delight in an old-fashioned winter ought to be supremely happy.

OBITUARY

Mrs. H. H. Dixson.

Mrs. Susan Dixson, aged 61 years, the wife of Harry H. Dixson, of Walnut street, died at the home last night at 7:30 o'clock after an illness extending over a period of 15 years. Mrs. Dixson during the past year has been in a very serious condition and her death was not unexpected. She was surrounded with loving relatives and friends who did everything possible to alleviate her sufferings. Though her suffering was intense she bore it all with true Christian fortitude and died happy in the thought that she would soon meet the Master she had served so long and faithfully.

Mrs. Dixson came to this city about 26 years ago with her husband and has since resided here. Mr. Dixson, until he retired on account of ill health, was a stationary engineer and was employed in local manufactures. Mrs. Dixson was born in Stark county a short distance north of Canton and lived there a number of years, uniting with the Christian church when but 15. She took an active part in church work until the time her illness confined her to her home. But one child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dixson, a daughter, who died 12 years ago at the age of 18. Besides the husband one sister, Mrs. Louisa Moore, of Canton, survives.

The funeral services will be held at the First Christian church, of which she was a member, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Gorrell, officiating. The interment will be made in Riverview cemetery.

James Harold, aged 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baum, of Main street, Wellsville, died Saturday. He had been ill with measles, but death is attributed to other causes. Burial was made in St. Elizabeth cemetery, Rev. Father Crotty officiating.

LIFE

Life is often hanging in the balance when a physician writes a prescription. If the compounding is inaccurate, or if the drugs supplied are lacking in purity or strength, who shall answer for results? We recognize our responsibility in these matters. We regard every prescription as one requiring the utmost care as to accuracy, and demanding the highest grade of drugs that money will buy.

Our ideal prescription service costs you nothing extra—we always strive to give the best of everything at prices that are absolutely fair.

WELLSVILLE AND VICINITYNEW COAL TOWN
AT YELLOW CREEK

Erection of 40 to 50 Houses to Be Started on the McCullough Tract Shortly.

L. F. Burton, of Cleveland, and his associates, all of whom are capitalists, will erect between 40 and 50 houses on the William McCullough farm located near Yellow Creek, land which they recently purchased for $100,000.

Development of the coal in this land is the purpose of the company. The payment for the property was to be made in six installments. The last payment was made last week, and the land is now in the possession of its new owners.

The houses will cost probably $1,000 each. Work will begin as soon as the weather moderates.

Following in the wake of this announcement, comes the story that for a term of ten years, the Crawford farm located across the creek from the McCullough farm, has been leased by a number of Wellsville men. It is also said that three veins of coal underly this property.

This coal will be sold in Wellsville, while that taken from the McCullough farm will be shipped to Cleveland.

LEARNING TO WALK

The Effort Necessary for a Railroader Who Was Injured in October.

Charles B. McCabe, the young C. & P. fireman, will leave the Gill hospital this week for his home in Washington, D. C., accompanied by his brother, J. J. McCabe, who has been at the hospital to visit him. The injury to McCabe occurred at Costonia on Friday, October 2, and since then he has been a patient in the hospital. He had been flogging on the work train out of Wellsville and was sitting on the track when the work train was backed without warning.

McCabe had his feet stretched out to the center of the track and was looking in the direction of Steubenville. The flat cars were in the rear and when upon him, McCabe tried to move, but was held by the cattle guards so that two cars passed over his legs when he finally pulled himself from beneath the wheels. It was reported that he was sleeping, but the fact that he got off the track alone disproves the statement. The victim has had a hard siege at the hospital. He can now stand on his left leg, as only the ankle is a little stiff, but the right leg is not so well and it will be a long time before he can use it. He has crutches now and is taking a little exercise daily, and practically learning to walk again, with the aid of his brother.

Will Start This Evening at Three Wellsville Churches—Grand Meetings Expected.

Revival services at three Wellsville churches will commence tonight, and it is likely such services will be continued for several weeks.

Under the direction of Rev. C. H. Beck services will continue at the First Methodist Protestant church. At this church yesterday 11 new members were added to the church rolls. Other additions are expected next Sunday. The revival season at this church so far has been very successful.

Rev. R. S. Miller, of Pittsburgh, is assisting in the revival being held at the Presbyterian church, Trent street, between Fifth and Sixth streets. This special service, it was announced yesterday, would continue one week, commencing tonight. Additions to the church are expected next Sunday.

The second week of the revival season at the First M. E. church will be

REALM OF SPORTS

THE DOUBLE CROSS WORKS BACKWARDS

Local Tin Horns Lost a Big Wad at Their Own Game.

STRANGER HAD THE LUCK

And Cleared Them for Several Hundred on Five Little Hearts—They Are Now Searching for a Man Who Is Out of the Streak.

East Liverpool gaming rooms, like the parlors of sport in every city, are visited continuously by a class of men who make their living solely by victimizing the inexperienced. The so-called gentlemen gamblers detest such bunches and refrain from playing with them when they are apprised of the character and type of the gang. But there are times when a poker game cannot be filled unless such people are in the game, and there is seldom a crowd in which one of the sharpers is not identified.

Usually the gentleman will sit and drop from $25 to $100 and get up without a word, knowing full well that he might just as well have shoved his money under the door, because he was playing against both luck and skill. Why they will insist on getting into a sure loser is hard to explain, but supposedly it is because he is waiting for his luck to outdo both of the attendants of an up-to-date gambler. The winnings of the gentleman are few and very far between, and it is this fact that compels him to retain a hatred for the smooth fingered individuals and causes him to show delight when he periodically hears of a beating that has been the fate of the artist. In this Crocker City the other night the gentlemen had the pleasure of witnessing the game of their lives.

One of their sort had the best spurt of luck he or any other green horn ever had, and the way he turned up the cinch gamblers was lots of fun to all but the sure things. This lucky man hailed from an eastern city. He travels for a big manufacturing house, makes lots of money, spends lots of it, thinks he can gamble, is sure he can play a mit for all it is worth and that he could see an elephant if it were to appear on the table. Ordinarily he loses all his money, an all night's sleep and his trade for the following day, but this time he only lost the trade and the sleep. Like the remaining thousands who have had the pleasure of losing a thousand or so in a real swell Broadway game, he knows it all and sat down in this particular game with the air of Pittsburg Phil. The smart set were laughing all over. What a sausage they were about to buck. They had already seen him dash a hundred or two and the sight of it meant full wads for all of them. They advised him to play with a free, open heart—a prompting they soon received.

It was not long until there were several hundred dollars represented on the table. The stranger had been cleaning them by steam, but they thought it was only a matter of a few minutes until his pig luck would fail him and they would get all back they had invested and his roll, too, laboring under this delusion they continued contributing until the green fellow had about $200 in clean, cold cash of their money. It seemed that he could not drop any of it. To draw to a denouement a full house with him and finally the bunch decided to resort to desperate methods. One of them, the slickest of all, fixed up a hand. He was going to give the dear stranger the double cross. So far as his hand and that of his partner was concerned they came out exactly as he intended. He had three big aces and a pair of kings. His friend had three eights and a pair of smaller ones. Both hands were sufficient to warrant betting a million on and they thought that five little hearts to the stranger would result in his disaster. The hearts were handed to him all right, but not as they expected.

The pot was broken by sure enough gambler No. 1 for $5. Stranger raised it $5 on his flush. Sure enough No. 2 whooped on his three aces and a pair. No. 1 re-whooped and Stranger came back again. The sure enoughs were prepared to do him up in small packages. They knew he had them beat and no difference how much he raised, they stayed with him, and just enough better to egg him on. This continued until each man had shovved about $60 on the table and all decided to draw. As expected by the man who had fixed the deck each stood pat and the betting continued. The first dash out of the box No. 1 bet $25, only to be raised out of his boots by a whoop of $50. Even then No. 2 was not next and he resented it by an additional $50. By this time the wise men were about all in and when the green goose raised again No. 2 thought it best to only call. It was the most heartrending call he ever made. For the poor, simple easterner showed down the deuce, trey, four, five and six of hearts. Beaten at their own game almost killed them, but they were then up the spout and had to drop out, say nothing and apply to the dispenser of nerve fluids for a drop or two.

Though it seemed heartless to rejoice over the downfall of a sport, the gentlemen became hilarious and that game has been going the rounds ever since, while the defeated gang is out again searching for another sucker.

WESTMINSTER SATISFIED WITH DRAWN BATTLE

Held East Liverpool Five to Score of 31 to 31 at Wilmington Saturday Night.

With several changes from their usual positions the East Liverpool five was held to a tie in the game Saturday night with the Westminster college team at Wilmington. The score was 31 to 31. The college boys were well satisfied with the result and did not claim the right to have the struggle continued.

The Westminster team has been very successful in the past three years and the game Saturday night was the first in three years it has failed to win. The floor there is small and obstructed by several posts, which severely handicapped the locals.

The locals made a walk-away race of it at the start and when the first half was over the score stood 19 to 4 in their favor. The second half, in which the college boys gradually crawled up until the score was tied caused the wildest enthusiasm among the spectators.

Captain Chadwick and his men drove from New Castle to Wilmington 10 miles, in a bob sled. They were royally entertained and have given Westminster a return game here Feb. 29.

The summary is as follows:

East Liverpool—Allison and Bloor, forwards; Powell, center; Rigby and Chadwick, guards.

Westminster—Dunners and Moore, forwards; Calhoun, center; Stewart and Lambe, guards.

"I believe in lively coaching, and the public likes it. But I don't think the public cares anything for noise and bellowing and monkey shines on the lines that have for their sole object the rattling of the other side. Lively, earnest coaching keeps key on your own side, and kicking at the umpire is played out. It is a losing card, a waste of time. You can't do these things and keep your mind wholly on your own game. And unless you watch your own play strictly all the time you won't win."

SENSATIONAL PLAYS

Those That the Crowd Applauds Are Not Always the Most Difficult.

"The outfit catches that the people in the grand stand think are wonderful and the catches that the players know are really wonderful are no more alike than molasses and quicksilver," said Jim McAleer the other day, while sitting in base ball headquarters in Cleveland.

"In one of the last games I played with Tebeau's team here I went back almost to the fence for one hit high above my head, and caught it over my shoulder while going at such speed that I banged into the fence. The cheering was tremendous, but it wasn't a difficult catch at all, for the ball kept in the air.

"A moment later a sizzling low one came whizzing over second. I darted in for it as fast as I could go, but had to take a long, flying horizontal plunge to keep the ball from touching the ground. I got it about six inches above the grass. I slid along on my feet for 10 or 15 feet from the impetus of the plums. It was 50 times a more difficult catch than the other, but I never got a hand."

VASBINDER TRADED

Columbus Secures the Salineville Twirler From the Minneapolis Team, of American League.

The official announcement has been made that Vasbinder, the Salineville boy, has been traded by Minneapolis to the Columbus team, of the American association. Vasbinder was suspended last season owing to a disagreement with the management and spent the balance of the summer in this section. He played several games with Manager Reark's bunch and made quite a hit with local fans.

Vasbinder is an effective twirler and a fast outfielder. If properly treated he will prove a valuable man for the Columbus team.

Old Cy's Greatest Game.

Cy Young was asked the other day to name the greatest game in which he ever took part. "The eleven inning 0-0 Cleveland-Boston game in Cleveland at the close of the double season championship in 1892 was probably as good as any," said the rail-splitter.

"Jack Stitivets was the opposing pitcher, and we both went into the game bound that the other team should not score. We were both successful in this respect, though there were two or three men nipped at the plate. There was quite a lot of batting, but with the men on bases both pitchers were practically unhitable. Yes, all things considered, I've pitched games in which I wasn't hit as freely, but none in which I worked harder or in which the excitement was greater."

Nationals Defeated.

The Y. M. C. A. team won from the Nationals Saturday night by a score of 34 to 15 in two 20-minute halves. The lineups were:

Y. M. C. A.—Emmerling, Davidson and Harris, forwards; Durk, center; McCullough and Welch, guards.

Nationals—Struthrath and Godwin, guards; Cartwright, center; Harvey and Tyson, guards.

The negotiations for the sale of the Washington club are completely frozen up.

Phil Lewis, the Carnell college short stop, has turned down an offer from the St. Louis Cardinals.

REALM OF SPORTS

THE DOUBLE CROSS WORKS BACKWARDS

Local Tin Horns Lost a Big Wad at Their Own Game.

STRANGER HAD THE LUCK

And Cleared Them for Several Hundred on Five Little Hearts—They Are Now Searching for a Man Who Is Out of the Streak.

East Liverpool gaming rooms, like the parlors of sport in every city, are visited continuously by a class of men who make their living solely by victimizing the inexperienced. The so-called gentlemen gamblers detect such bunches and refrain from playing with them when they are apprised of the character and type of the gang. But there are times when a poker game cannot be filled unless such people are in the game, and there is seldom a crowd in which one of the sharpers is not identified.

Usually the gentleman will sit and drop from $25 to $100 and get up without a word, knowing full well that he might just as well have shoved his money under the door, because he was playing against both luck and skill. Why they will insist on getting into a sure loser is hard to explain, but supposedly it is because he is waiting for his luck to outdo both of the attendants of an up-to-date gambler. The winnings of the gentleman are few and very far between, and it is this fact that compels him to retain a hatred for the smooth fingered individuals and causes him to show delight when he periodically hears of a beating that has been the fate of the artist. In this Crocker City the other night the gentlemen had the pleasure of witnessing the game of their lives.

One of their sort had the best spurt of luck he or any other green horn ever had, and the way he turned up the cinch gamblers was lots of fun to all but the sure things. This lucky man hailed from an eastern city. He travels for a big manufacturing house, makes lots of money, spends lots of it, thinks he can gamble, is sure he can play a mit for all it is worth and that he could see an elephant if it were to appear on the table. Ordinarily he loses all his money, an all night's sleep and his trade for the following day, but this time he only lost the trade and the sleep. Like the remaining thousands who have had the pleasure of losing a thousand or so in a real swell Broadway game, he knows it all and sat down in this particular game with the air of Pittsburg Phil. The smart set were laughing all over. What a sausauge they were about to buck. They had already seen him dash a hundred or two and the sight of it meant full wads for all of them. They advised him to play with a free, open heart—a prompting they soon regretted.

It was not long until there were several hundred dollars represented on the table. The stranger had been cleaning them by steam, but they thought it was only a matter of a few minutes until his pig luck would fail him and they would get all back they had invested and his roll, too.

Laboring under this delusion they continued contributing until the green fellow had about $200 in clean, cold cash of their money. It seemed that he could not drop any of it. To draw a dence meant a full house with him and finally the bunch decided to resort to desperate methods. One of them, the slickest of all, fixed up a hand. He was going to give the dear stranger the double cross. So far as his hand and that of his partner was concerned they came out exactly as he intended. He had three big aces and a pair of kings. His friend had three eights and a pair of smaller ones. Both hands were sufficient to warrant betting a million on and they thought that five little hearts to the stranger would result in his disaster. The hearts were handed to him all right, but not as they expected.

The pot was broken by sure enough

gambler No. 1 for $5. Stranger raised it $5 on his flush. Sure enough No. 2 whooped him $5 on his three aces and a pair. No. 1 re-whooped and Stranger came back again. The sure enoughs were prepared to do him up in small packages. They knew he had them beat and no difference how much he raised, they stayed with him, and just enough better to egg him on. This continued until each man had shoved about $60 on the table and all decided to draw. As expected by the man who had fixed the deck each stood pat and the betting continued. The first dash out of the box No. 1 bet $25, only to be raised out of his boots by a whoop of $50. Even then No. 2 was not next and he resented it by an additional $50. By this time the wise men were about all in and when the green goose raised again No. 2 thought it best to only call. It was the most heart-rending call he ever made. For the poor, simple easterner showed down the deuce, trey, four, five and six of hearts. Beaten at their own game almost killed them, but they were then up the spout and had to drop out, say nothing and apply to the dispenser of nerve fluids for a drop or two.

Though it seemed heartless to rejoice over the downfall of a sport, the gentlemen became hilarious and that game has been going the rounds ever since, while the defeated gang is out again searching for another sucker.

WESTMINSTER SATISFIED WITH DRAWN BATTLE

Held East Liverpool Five to Score of 31 to 31 at Wilmington Saturday Night.

With several changes from their usual positions the East Liverpool five was held to a tie in the game Saturday night with the Westminster college team at Wilmington. The score was 31 to 31. The college boys were well satisfied with the results and did not claim the right to have the struggle continued.

The Westminster team has been very successful in the past three years and the game Saturday night was the first in three years it has failed to win. The floor there is small and obstructed by several posts, which severely handicapped the locals.

The locals made a walk-away race of it at the start and when the first half was over the score stood 19 to 4 in their favor. The second half, in which the college boys gradually crawled up until the score was tied caused the wildest enthusiasm among the spectators.

Captain Chadwick and his men drove from New Castle to Wilmington, 10 miles, in a bob sled. They were royally entertained and have given Westminster a return game here February 29.

The summary is as follows:

East Liverpool—Allison and Bloor, forwards; Powell, center; Rigby and Chadwick, guards.

Westminster—Dunners and Moore, forwards; Calhoun, center; Stewart and Lambe, guards.

Goals—Allison 1, Bloor 1, Powell 3, Rigby 2, Chadwick 2, Dunners 3, Moore 3, Calhoun 1, Stewart 1, Lambe 3. Foul—Allison 13, Lambe 9.

Time—20-minute halves.

There are times in the game when it is 5 to 1 against the base runner, and yet the proper thing for him to do is to move along and try to win out on the slim chance. These situations depend on various things—who is at the bat, the score, and other things. At such times I want the daring coacher up to direct the runner, but one who also has good judgment.

"I believe in lively coaching, and the public likes it. But I don't think the public cares anything for noise and bellowing and monkey shiness on the lines that have for their sole object the rattling of the other side. SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints. It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint. Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

Anyone can catch fish in California

Bait, a line, hook, rod and a little patience are all that are necessary.

There is good sport within a stone's throw of several of the largest hotels along the coast, but the best fishing is at Santa Catalina Island. Santa Catalina is the home of the tuna—Tiger of the Pacific—which attains a weight of 200 pounds and has been known to tow a boat for hours. The tuna visits Santa Catalina for only a few days in the year, but sea bass, yellowtail and barracuda are plentiful the year round.

Santa Catalina is only three and one-half hours from Los Angeles and Los Angeles is only three and one-half hours from Chicago via the Rock Island System. Full information on request.

their demands are fair and moderate, and that their diplomacy, which has been patient, has gone to a reasonable limit. They expect the world's sympathy in the struggle and have a splendid confidence in their army and navy. In the event of reverses or a national disaster it is thought that England and the United States would intervene to preserve a balance of power in Eastern Asia. There is no fear of an invasion of Japan, a country which is probably the most strongly defended in the world. The growth of British and American sentiment is remarked. Numerous displays of the flags of the two nations are made and popular songs reciting the glories of the "Lion" and "Uncle Sam" are sung.

The characters of "Uncle Sam" and "Johnny Bull" are also seen at public dances. The activity of the United States in the opening of the ports of Mukden and Antung is keenly watched and in some quarters it is hoped that this may aid in solving the problem of insuring peace. The censor ship prohibits the publication of military movements. At present the movements are merely preliminary and aimed to insure an immediate dispatch of an immense land and sea force if it should become necessary.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Joseph Swain, president of Swarthmore college, an institution dominated by the Quakers. Mrs. Frederick Schoff, president of the National Congress of Mothers, explained why the women of the country had taken up the fight against Senator Smoot and said that 400,000 women are already engaged in the movement. "We have engaged Representative Taylor as our legal adviser," said she, "and I was assured in Washington that had we women not done so no objection would have been made to seating Mr. Smoot."

The Rev. Charles Wood of the Second Presbyterian church, Dr. Sarah J. Elliott of New York, a physician who spent seven years in Utah villages and Salt Lake City, and A. T. Schroeder, also of New York, were among the speakers.

Baron Hayashi intimated that he thought Japan was bound to be beaten in the end.

"If we were beaten," the minister resumed, "Russia would take Korea and Manchuria by right of conquest, and possibly Japan. No power on earth could then dislodge her from Central China and all the Far East. HOW TO GAIN FLESH

The life of food is the fat within it—the more fat the more real benefit from the food; that is why cod liver oil is a powerful builder of flesh.

Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil solves the problem of how to take cod liver oil. That is one reason why doctors have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion for all wasting diseases, coughs, colds and bronchitis for almost thirty years.

William A. Harris Tells of New Road's Possibilities.

Kansas City, Jan. 18.—William A. Harris, former United States senator from Kansas, has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Kansas City and Orient railway. Mr. Harris, who in 1872 had charge of the Indian reservation and congressional land grants of the Union Pacific railway between Kansas City and Denver, will have charge of the land and town site interest of the Orient road to his new position. Mr. Harris said:

"My study of transcontinental railroads began years ago. The active part I took for six years in urging the building of the Panama canal made me feel that access to the Pacific coast by the shortest possible route—from Kansas City—was one of the most attractive propositions that had ever appeared upon the railroad map. Close reciprocal relations between this country and Mexico are coming soon. The unmistakable trend of public sentiment in both countries is for it. The Orient road will be largely supplemental to the Isthmian canal. A rapid transit route from the Pacific by the nearest way will be a necessity.

GLOVER IS DEFIANT.

Imprisoned Attorney Says He Will Fight for His Rights to the End.

Cripple Creek, Col., Jan. 18.—Former Congressman John M. Glover who broke his military parole by sending a letter to Colonel Verdeckers and was arrested, gave out an address from the county jail in which he declares the conditions of the parole were unendurable and such as only a despot would impose. He says:

"Governor Peabody may imprison miners and obscure men and weaken their cause before the public by charging them falsely with many crimes but he cannot do it with me. In my case the arbitrary power used at discretion must distinctly and solely arise and be settled to his ruin if not sustained."

"I command to the consideration of constitutional rights league the criminal cause of that act. Under it all of Peabody's tools and accomplices can be sent to penal servitude and his pardoning power will avail him nothing."

Major McClelland with a squad of soldiers took five prisoners from the bull pen at Camp Goldfield, and marching them to the eastern line of the county, commanded them to travel and never return.

become general agent for central Ohio with headquarters at Columbus for the American Surety company, of New York. For several years he was the Ohio representative of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, Chicago Record-Herald, Baltimore Sun and New York Telegraph and a regular contributor to Leslie's Weekly.

When the idea of having a press committee to advertise the inauguration was conceived it was decided to secure Mr. Mossgrove to act as chairman. Twenty or more trained newspaper writers were placed on the committee, all of whom worked under the direction of Mr. Mossgrove. Each man was assigned to write a story on a particular feature of the inauguration and something like 400 papers were supplied with copy and plate matter setting forth attractively the event in all its phases. The natural result was, the inauguration being advertised as no preceding event of like character was, a record-breaking attendance. The general inauguration committee has made acknowledgement that the work of the press committee was a big factor in making the event a gratifying success.

SOCIAL EVENTS

ORGANIZED FOR ALL OF LEAP YEAR

The Girls' Club Formed. Officers Chosen and Rules and Regulations Adopted.

"The Girls" held a business meeting on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Alice Way, Broadway and Fifth streets. The club organized permanently for leap year and the following officers were elected: President, Miss Margaret Viney; secretary, Miss Mary Hill; treasurer, Miss Alice Way. The constitution of the club, as drawn up on Saturday, follows:

"In organizing this new society, we, "The Girls," do hereby signify our agreement to faithfully stand by the rules and regulations, as drawn up in this constitution. In signing our names we pledge ourselves loyal, active members of the same, willing to accept each duty which falls to our lot and perform it to the best of our ability." This is signed by Alice Way, Florence Louthan, Olive Ikirt, Rowena Rayman, Cora Fisher, Edith Koch, Susan Wilson and Margaret Viney.

The rules are as follows:

That the name be "The Girls."

First of all, the club intends to participate in all reasonable pleasures.

Any suggestions or complaints must be brought before the society.

Members are to respond readily when called upon.

In case of sickness the absent one is to be remembered by the more fortunate members.

One thing strictly prohibited is gossip among "The Girls."

Moral attainments are not to be excluded.

Rude speech or uncouth expressions must be refrained from upon all occasions.

Elaborate dressing at our "Social Times" is entirely out of order.

Absent members, without a reasonable excuse, are fined.

"The Girls" will hold their social meetings about once a month and each young lady of the club will entertain the other members twice during the leap year 1904.

McCoy Circle Installation.

The installation of new officers of McCoy circle No. 33 took place on Saturday afternoon in Grand Army hall. A large number were present to witness the impressive ceremony, but the most honored of all the guests was Mrs. M. Anna Hall, of Wheeling, who is past national president and now national councilor. Comrade Grim, of General Lyon post, was installation officer, and in a fitting manner he addressed the new officers. At the conclusion of the remarks both Mr. Grim and the president of the circle were presented with handsome bouquets. During the afternoon of social enjoyment addresses were made by Mrs. Hall and other ladies of the society. Mrs. Fannie Wyllie spoke briefly of the work of the past, and thanked the ladies for their courtesy and hearty support given during her term of office as president. The following are the officers who were installed: President, Mrs. Daniel McLane; senior vice president, Mrs. W. A. Walters; junior vice president, Mrs. Kinsey; chaplain, Mrs. Elizabeth Little; conductor, Mrs. William Surles; inside guard, Mrs. Fanny Wyllie.
